

2019 Holocaust Memorial Service High School Writing Competition

Attention all Northwest Louisiana High School Students!

To remember the lives that were lost during one of humanity's worst periods, our community remembers the Holocaust with an annual memorial service. Through our remembering and active cooperation, we strive to obliterate injustice. Because our future is only as strong as our youth, we are continuing our annual writing competition to encourage students to voice their understandings of the tragedy of the past and their hopes for the future.

HIGH SCHOOL PROMPTS

Background for Essays and Creative Prompts

Since 1945, Holocaust survivors and their families continue to search for news of family and friends who might have survived this horrific, tragic event. They are also looking for closure—something that documents the death of their loved ones. Despite the intervening years, a void remains in the lives of the survivors and many never give up the search. In most cases, this is a lengthy and complex procedure—often yielding no results. However, there are documented cases of emotional reunions between siblings, friends, descendant family members, and even between liberator and a concentration camp survivor.

Essay Prompts – Choose One

*Based on research, write an essay describing several ways families attempted to reunite. Include names of organizations and facilities that helped in the searches.

*Based on research, write an essay about a reunion between a liberator and a concentration camp survivor.

Essay Directions

Entries must include facts to support feelings and viewpoint and should be a maximum of 500 words, double-spaced, and in 12-point Arial font. Internal documentation and Works Cited is required (not included in word count). Submissions must represent the independent work of the student, but teachers may provide grammatical or spelling recommendations. For essay prompt, use internal documentation and place Works Cited at the end.

Creative Prompts – Choose One

* Based on research, create a story about a family whose members are separated during the Holocaust and try to find each other. Your research will include describing several ways families attempted or succeeded in reuniting. Include dialogue and names of organizations and facilities that helped in the searches.

*Based on research, write a story or a poem about a reunion between a liberator and a concentration camp survivor. Include dialogue.

Creative Writing Directions

Entries must use facts to support feelings and viewpoints, and the story should be between 350 to 500 words, double-spaced, and in 12-point Arial font. The poem may be 250 – 450 words, double-spaced, and in 12-point Arial font. Submissions must represent the independent work of the student, but teachers may provide grammatical or spelling recommendations. Students must include a Bibliography at the end. (This is not part of the word count).

Judging

JUDGING CRITERIA - The decision of the Judges is final.

1. Originality and creativity
2. Historical accuracy
3. Addresses the contest theme
4. Correct grammar and writing mechanics
5. Acknowledgement of sources within the essay and location of sources at the end of the paper

Contest judges review submissions with no knowledge of the writer's identity, school, or residence. In order to provide anonymous papers for judging, the body of the paper should not contain any information identifying the writer. The entry must be the original work of the student. Judges request that teachers review students' work and submit only entries worthy of being considered for judging. By submitting an entry, you are agreeing to all the judging criteria. The decision of the judges is final.
